INDEX TO VOL. XXXVIII.

AUS

AUSTIN CLARE, Another Man's Burden and By Lantern Light, 254

BAGSHAWE, Rev. J. B., Skeleton Sermons for the Sundays and Holidays in the Year, 501
Bates, Miss Katharine Lee, The English Religious Drama, 505
Bent, Mr. J. Theodore, The Sacred City of the Ethiopians, 246
Bourdillon, Rev. F., The Mourner in his Chamber, 255
Bury, Professor J. B., A History of the Roman Empire, from its Foundation to the Death of Marcus Aurelius, 501
Butler, the late Dean, Meditations on the Hundred and Nineteenth Psalm, 519

CANTERBURY, Archbishop of, Fishers of Men (Third Visitation Charge of the Diocese of Canterbury), 228
Carter, Rev. Canon T. T., Retreats, with Notes of Addresses, 251
Cathedrals, English, 50 sqq.; revived appreciation of their historical and artistic interest, 50; Mrs. Van Rensselaer's Handbook of English Cathedrals: its object, 51; Our English Minsters, by Archdeacon Farrar and others, 52; Mrs. Van Rensselaer's comparison of English and French cathedrals, ib.; the picturesque element of those of England, 53; Canterbury, 54; the tomb of Archbishop Hubert Walter, 55; Peterborough, ib.; Durham, 56; the burial-place of the Venerable Bede, 57; Salisbury, ib.; the Old Testament sculptures in the chapter-house, 58; Lichfield, 59; Canon

CHI

Venables's description of Lincoln, ib.; the Angel Choir, 60; the recent restorations, ib.; Ely and Wells, 61; Winchester: its builders, Bishops Walkelyn, Godfrey de Lucy, Edyngdon, William of Wykeham, 62; work of their successors, 63; recent restorations, 64; Gloucester: the work of the monk-architects, 64 sq.; York Minster, 66; comparison of French and English Gothic, ib.; St. Paul's, 67; improved services in cathedrals, 69
Chinese Central Asia (review of Rev. Dr. Lansdell's book), 327 sqq.; the author's desire to get to Lassa, through Chinese Turkestan, 328; ways and means discussed, 329; Russian hospitality, ib.; the Trans-Caspian railway: Russian methods of constructing railways for imperial purposes, 330; description of railway travelling through a sandy desert, ib.; Amu-daria: crossing the Oxus, 331; description of the bridge, ib.; Bokhara: General Annenkoff's train of two-storied waggons, 331; how the submission of Merv was secured, 332; the newly excavated Christian cemetery of Tokmak, ib.; interesting epitaphs, 333; crossing the ice-pass of Muz-Davan, ib.; difficulty of entering China, ib.; provisions for travel, 335; question of money, 336; perplexities arising from ludicrous varieties of standards of exchange, 337; cost of necessaries, 338; political condition of Chinese Central Asia, 339; question of Russia taking possession of the land, ib.; plateau of the Pamirs, 340; description of the several districts comprised under the name of Pamir, 341; moral and religious condition of Chinese Turkestan, 342; description of Little and Great Tibet, 343; failure to reach Lassa, 344; position and prospects of missions, 345

XUM

Church, the late Dean, Village Sermons, 213

Cusack, Miss M. F., The Story of my Life, 248

Cutts, Rev. Dr., A Handy Book of the Church of England, 233

DENNY, Rev. E., Anglican Orders and Jurisdiction, 237

De Vere, Mr. Aubrey, Mediæval Records and Sonnets, 507

Dowden, Bishop (Edinburgh), The Celtic Church in Scotland: being an Introduction to the History of the Christian Church in Scotland down to the Death of St. Margaret, 513

Drummond, Professor H., The Greatest Thing in the World, and other Addresses, 509

ENGLISH PRINCESS, An, at the Court of Louis XIV. (review of Mrs. Ady's Life of Henrietta, Duchess of Orleans), 138 sqq.; striking events of the Princess's babyhood, 141; her education at the French Court, 142; in England after the Restoration, 143; her marriage to the Duke of Orleans, ib.; share in the gaieties of the French Court, 144; disagreements with her husband, 145; relations with her brother, Charles II., 146; patronage of literary men, 147; crisis in her married life, 148; her share in political affairs, 149; circumstances attending her death, 149 sq.; her character, 150

FANSHAWE, Mr. R., Two Lives: a Poem, 216

Farrar, Ven. Archdeacon, The Lord's Prayer: Sermons preached in Westminster Abbey, 497

Ferguson, Lady, Life of William Reeves, Lord Bishop of Down, Connor and Dromore, 239

Foley, Rev. W. M., Christ in the World; or, Christianity in its Relation to the Life of the World and the Course of Human Progress (the Donnellan Lectures for 1892–93, University of Dublin), 212

Free, Rev. Richard W., Church and Dissent, 517

GALLICAN CHURCH, the origin of the (review of the Abbé Duchesne's Fastes Episcopaux de l'ancienne Gaule), 393 sqq.; interest of the book, 393; tradition that British Christianity was brought by way of South Gaul, 394; early Gallic Christianity, 395; ecclesiastical organization in the fourth century, 399; legends of SS. Trophimus, Saturninus, Symphorian, 400; SS. Ferréol, Benignus, Ferjeux, 401; SS. Mary Magdalene, Martha, Mary of Egypt, Lazarus, 403; influence of Milan on the Gallican Church, 405; evidence drawn from early Occidental liturgies, 406; Duchesne's argument from these, 407; conclusion as to the origin of British Christianity, 408

Geikie, Rev. Dr. C., The Gospels, 242

Gelasian Sacramentary, The (ed. H. A. Wilson), 347 sqq.; comparison of various MSS. of the Sacramentary, 348; their order of growth, 349; the Gelasian canon of the Mass, 350; compared with the Gregorian, 351; variations and interpolations, 352; the place of the Roman epiclesis, 355; the second Memento, 356; the arrangement of the services in the Swiss manuscripts, 357; Masses for the Thursdays in Lent, 358

Geschichte der altchristlichen Litteratur bis Eusebius. Theil i.

'Die Ueberlieferung und der Bestand' (by Professor Harnack and Herr Preuschen), 483
Glacial Period, the, and the Antiquity of Man, 123 sqq.; statement of the Glacial Theory, 124; works by Sir H. Howorth in opposition to this theory, 125; corroboration of his arguments, 126; their bearing on the question of the antiquity of Man, 127; Sir H. Howorth's The Glacial Nightmare, 128; difficulties of the Glacialists' theory, 129; demonstration of the existence of a great Post-Glacial flood, 133; Dr. Wright's Man and the Glacial Period, 133; his account of the Ice Age in North America, 134; the force of fanciful supposition, 135; Dr. Wright's opinion of the antiquity of man in Europe and America, 136; difficulty still remains as to the extent and duration of the Great Ice Age, 138

HALL, Rev. H. E., The Ritualists and the Reformation, 226
'Happiness in Hell, the,' Mr. St. George Mivart on, 152 sqq.; some of Mr. Mivart's previous controversies, 152; statement of his theory as to the punishment of Hell, 156; as to the 'real meaning' of the Church's teaching on the 'extreme and varied torture' in Hell, 157; as to why 'monstrous and grotesque' representations of these tortures have been permitted, 157 sq.; criticism of these views, 158; and of his positive theory of 'Hell,' 161; Father Clarke's reply to him, 164; the appeal to Rome and Mr. Mivart's reception of the result, 166; the Infallible Authority has failed to answer most grave questions, 168
Harden, Mr. W. Dearing, An Inquiry into the Truth of Dogmatic Christianity, comprising a Discussion with a Bishop of the Roman Catholic Church, 507

Hole, Dean, Addresses spoken to Working Men, 231
Holmes, Rev. E. M., A Handbook to the Psalms, Prayer Book Version, 250
Hort's (Dr.) Hulsean Lectures on The Way, the Truth, the Life, 379 sqq.; plan and purpose of the book, 380; the need of dogmatic instruction, 381; and of 'fundamental inquiries,' 382; present conditions of the Hulsean Lectures, 384; Dr. Hort's insistence that our Lord is in the most literal sense the Way, the Truth, the Life, 386; conclusions that follow from this, 389; the Sacramental system of the Church, 390

INCARNATION, The, and Common Life (review of Bishop Westcott's book), 70 sqq.; the author's faith in the far-reaching power of the Incarnation, 70; Christian ethics applied to current social and national problems, 72; weak points in the author's view of the office of a national Church, 74; St. Athanasius on the universality of the dominion of Christ when Incarnate, 76; God's Word 'has a message for every generation,' 77; meaning of the truth that God works in nature, 78; the present imperfection of human faculties must be remembered, 80; the 'conditions of progressive revelation,' 82; the 'problems of Biblical inquiry,' 83; value and dangers of ceremonial observances, 84; responsibilities of the wealthy, and Christian obligations towards them, 86 Inspiration, Professor Sanday's Bampton Lectures on, 359 sqq.; general character of the work, 360; chronology of the establishing of the Canons of both Testaments, 361; the authorship of the books, 362; the inspiration of the prophets, 363; of the historians, 365; the Pentateuch, 366; Dr. Edersheim's view compared with Professor Sanday's, 367; the growth of the Torah, 368; the 'Book of the Covenant,' 369; the Hagiographa, Psalms, Wisdom Books, ib.; the Song of Songs, 370; the growth of the Old Testament as a Collection of Sacred Books, 371; the 'Men of the Great Synagogue,' 373; the Deutero-Canonical writers, 374; the New Testament Canon, 375; the traditional and inductive theories of inspiration compared, 376; the author scarcely touches on the nature of inspiration, 377; his treatment of our Lord's authority, 378

INS

Inspiration and History, 257 sqq.; the Encyclical of Leo XIII. on Holy Scripture; its hostility to the 'higher criticism,' 259; declarations on Inspiration, 260; different attitudes of Roman Catholics towards the Pope's letter, 262; Mr. Gore's criticism of it, 263; the Quarterly Review's article on 'Old Testament Criticism,' 264; in the Scriptures human knowledge is utilized by God, 266; there is real progress in Scriptural teaching, 269; the moral training of mankind was gradual, 270; the relation of Inspiration to matters of fact, 272; New Testament use of Old Testament facts, 273; it is the Divine meaning which is the message of God, 274; some criticism of the Encyclical, 275; Professor Sayce's The 'Higher Criticism' and the Verdict of the Monuments, 276; objections to the author's views on the Book of Daniel, 278; protest against the publication of Professor Sayce's book by the S.P.C.K., 280; the recently published Declaration on the Inspiration of Holy Scripture, 281; principles it upholds, 282; moderation with which it is drawn up, 283

JESSOPP, Rev. Dr., Studies by a Recluse in Cloister, Town, and Country, 504

LOW

Jukes, Mr. A., The Order and Connexion of the Church's Teaching, as set forth in the Arrangement of the Epistles and Gospels throughout the Year, 251

KAFTAN, Professor Julius, The Truth of the Christian Religion (translated by George Ferries, B.D., with a Prefatory Note by Professor Robert Flint), 478

Knox-Little, Rev. Canon, Sacerdotalism, if rightly understood, the Teaching of the Church of England, 226

LE GALLIENNE, Mr. R., The Religion of a Literary Man, 244

Lightfoot, Bishop, Biblical Essays, 199

Literary History of Early Christianity (review of Rev. C. T. Cruttwell's book), 183 sqq.; character of the book, 183; some omissions noted, 185; the author's treatment of episcopacy, 186; the canon of the New Testament, 187; Papias, 188; The Shepherd of Hermas, ib.; Gnosticism, 189; the Apologists, 190; Theophilus of Antioch, Justin Martyr, Tatian, 191; Justinus's Book of Baruch, 192; the Alexandrian school of theology, 193; Clement, Origen, 194; Ammonius Saccas, 195; Origen's doctrines, 196; early Christian editors of the LXX, 197; Tertullian and St. Cyprian, 197 sq.; Minucius Felix, Arnobius, Lactantius, 199

Little Lady Maria (Anonymous), 255

Littleton, Rev. Cecil J., The Office and Work of a Priest, 516

Lowell, James Russell, Letters of (ed. Charles Eliot Norton), 97 sqq.; Mr. Lowell's love of England, 97; sketch of his early life, 98; early love of poetry, 99; marriage, 100; first series of the Biglow Papers, 101; The Changeling, 102; The First Snowfall, 103; death of his children and his wife, ib.; pathetic letter on the occasion, 104; Professor at Harvard, 105; The Cathedral, ib.; a dinner with Thackeray, ib.; second marriage, 106; specimens of his humour, 107; his description of Emerson's speeches, 108; kindness to Mr. W. D. Howells, ib.; lady correspondents, 109; the value of old friends, ib.; love of nature, 110; song of the cricket on the hearth, ib.; editor of the North American Review, 111; Mr. Leslie Stephen on Lowell's characteristics, ib.; his patriotism expressed in the Commemoration Ode (1865), 112; Lowell's resentment against England subdued, 113; friendship with Mr. T. Hughes, ib.; visit to Europe (1872), 114; diplomatic life, ib.; minister at London, 115; remarks on English public men, 116; death of Mrs. Lowell, 118; return to America, and periodical visits to England, ib.; epigrammatic estimate of the McKinley Tariff Bill, 120; his last days, ib.; his religious feelings, 121; his death, 122; summary of his character, 123

MAKOWER, Dr. F., Die Verfassung der Kirche von England, 488

Mason, Emily M., A Life's Labour, 255

Maurice, Rev. F. Denison, The Prayer Book considered especially in reference to the Romish System, and The Lord's Prayer, 495

Mediæval Preaching in Italy: fifteenth century, 424 sqq.; moral and social condition of the period, 425; Latin usually the language of preachers, 426; sketch of the life of Bernardino de' Busti, 428; intellectual and political state of Italy, 429; the 'risus paschales,' 430; de' Busti's Rosarium and Mariale, 431; their literary character: mixture of Latin and the vernacular, 434; extent of the author's reading, 435; specimens of his stories and legends, 436;

method of exalting the Blessed Virgin, 437; the 'Immaculate Conception,' 439; free-and-easy use of Holy Scripture, 441; his teaching concerning the Blessed Virgin, 442; her post of exaltation and authority in heaven, 447; his encouragement of evil principles and immorality, 448; de' Busti's methods still used in the Church of Rome, 450; 'Mary is the intermediary' between God and man, a doctrine of Leo XIII., 453

Missionary Conference of the Anglican Communion on May 28, 29, 30, 31, and June 1, 1894, The Official Report of the (edited by Mr. George A. Spottiswoode), 523

Mitchell, Elizabeth Harcourt, Kate the Pride of the Parish, 255

Modern Oxford, Aspects of, by a Mere Don, 223

Moorhouse, Bishop (Manchester), Church Work: its Means and Methods, 492

NEWBOLT, Rev. Canon, Speculum Sacerdotum; or, the Divine Model of the Priestly Life, 215

Newman, Mrs., What came between, 254

Novels, some recent, 455 sqq.; how far realism is legitimate in literature, 456; estimate of Mrs. Humphry Ward's Marcella, 458; a mournful blot, 459; Mr. George Moore's Esther Waters: its good points, 460; spoilt by the introduction of repulsive details, 461; Messrs. W. H. Smith and Son's refusal to circulate the book, 462; appearance of an abnormal, unhealthy and bizarre class of literature, 463; description of A Yellow Aster, 465; Mrs. Grand's Ideala, 468; The Heavenly Twins, 469; what is of dangerous tendency in this class of novels, 470; the one effectual antidote, 472

OVERTON, Canon, The English Church in the Nineteenth

Century, 87 sqq.; enormous value of such a work as this, 87; low state of moral and religious feeling in the early part of the century, 88; the High Church party of that time, 89; the Evangelicals, ib.; characteristics of Charles Simeon and other distinguished clergymen and laymen, 90 sq.; difference between the transient and permanent effects of the Evangelical movement, 91; the Liberals, precursors of the Broad Church school, 91; frequency of celebration of the Holy Eucharist: Legh Richmond, Daniel Wilson, ib.; practice of the Methodist Society, 92; peculiarities of ceremonial, 92; Psalmody and Hymns, ib.; church-building, 93; religion in literature, ib.; extreme Calvinism, 94; Evangelicals at the Universities, ib.; their opposition to the public school system, ib; elementary education, Sunday Schools, Church societies, 94 sq.; relations of the Church to the State, 95; intercourse of the Church of England with sister Churches, 96

Owen, Hon. Mrs. Bulkeley, Twelve Readings for Mothers' Unions, upon the Seasons of the Church, 255

PRIMITIVE Saints, The, and the See of Rome (review of Father Puller's book), 27 sqq.; the alleged Scriptural foundation of the Papal claims, 28; patristic interpretation of the 'rock,' and of the commission given to St. Peter, 29; statement of the Roman Catholic position, 30; old controversies rediscussed, 31; Pope Stephen and St. Cyprian, 32; case of Meletius of Antioch, 34; attitude of Athanasius in the matter, 35; a Roman rejoinder demurred to, 36; a quotation from St. Jerome considered, 37; St. Cyprian's phrase, 'the root and womb of the Catholic Church,' 39; St. Chrysostom, 40; teaching of St. Leo, 40 sq.; St. Augustine, 42; primitive conception of the Catholic Church, 43; another Roman position examined, 44 sqq.; means by which the power of Rome grew, 46; some minor faults in Father Puller's book, 47; the appeal for visible union with Rome rejected, 48

RAWLINSON, Rev. Canon, Parthia ('The Story of the Nations' Series), 503

Reade, F. E., Mrs. Glen's Daughter, 255

Ring, Rev. T. P., The Most Certain Fact in History, 231

Rossetti, Christina, Verses, 256

Russell, Rev. H. P., The Doctrine and Discipline of Holy Church, 500

SAUNDERS, Mr. Bailey, The Maxims and Reflections of Goethe, 219

Sayce, Rev. A. H., The 'Higher Criticism' and the Verdict of the Monuments, 276

Scott, Rev. Canon T. L., The Visions of the Apocalypse and their Lessons (the Donnellan Lectures for 1891–92, University of Dublin), 212

Seeley, Professor, Goethe reviewed after Sixty Years, 219

Select Library of Nicene and Post-Nicene Fathers of the Christian Church, ed. Dr. Wace and Dr. P. Schaff, vols. v. vi. vii., 472

Seymour, A. J., and A. E. M. Anderson-Morshead, Glimpses of the Far-off Land, 518

Shearman, Rev. J. N., Gradual Catechizing, 245

Simpson, Rev. W. J. Sparrow, Pater Noster: Addresses on the Lord's Prayer, 496

Sinclair, Ven. Archdeacon, Christ and Our Times, 235

Smith, Dr. George, The Conversion of India, from Pantænus to the Present Time, 486

Smith, Mr. Barnett, Eminent Christian Workers of the Nineteenth Century, 249

SMI

Smith, Rev. J. B., English Orders, 237

Social Evolution (review of Mr. Kidd's book), 311 sqq.; the author's estimate of the practical outcome of the social doctrine of Herbert Spencer and Huxley, 311; the result of the breaking down of barriers between nations and communities, 312; signs of the 'religiousness' of the time, 314; expansion of political economy, 315; some sad facts in human progress, 316; arguments for putting up with things as they are, 317; the rational sanction which takes account of the whole man, body and soul, 319; Mr. Kidd's estimate of Primitive, Mediæval, and Reformed Christianity, 320; extinction of slavery, 321; extension of political privileges to the lower classes, 322; operation of altruism on the power-holding class, 323; his account of modern socialism, 325

Spanish Protestants, the proposed Episcopate for, 284 sqq.; the attitude of the Anglican Churches towards national Churches in communion with Rome, 285; controversial character of Spanish Reformed Church, 286; state of Spanish Roman Catholic clergy, 287; religious character of Señor Cabrera (the bishop-elect), 289; Spanish jealousy of foreigners, 290; Archbishop Plunket's methods and aim, pecuniary and doctrinal, 291; examination of the Prayer Book of the Spanish reformers: the extracts from the Mozarabic rite, 293; doctrine: Holy Eucharist, Baptism, Holy Orders, 297; no Catechism, 298; no security for the permanency of even the present Church order and doctrine, 299; social position and numbers of the converts, 301; the question of the constitutional right of Irish bishops to consecrate bishops for Spain and Portugal, 302; Bingham's opinion discussed, 303; the true principles upon which Church extension should be conducted, 304; the proposed action would be establishing a Church in communion with no Church external to itself, 305; the difficulty in which the Archbishop of Dublin has involved his episcopal brethren, 306; the Irish bishops are in a false position in this matter, 307; a solution of the difficulty, 310

STA

Stanley, Dean (review of his Life by Mr. R. E. Prothero, 1 sqq.; why the work has been delayed, 1; excellence of the author's work, 2; Stanley's birth and boyhood, 3; specimen of his descriptive writing in early youth, 4; his reception and life at Rugby, 5; Dr. Vaughan's account of Arnold's influence, 6; Julius Hare and Sterling, 7; sources of Stanley's future religious convictions, ib.; undergraduate life at Oxford, 8; his associates there, ib.; his father made Bishop of Norwich, 9; question of the meaning of schism, ib.; Stanley's influence with undergraduates, 10; death of Arnold, 11; sermons before the University in 1846, ib.; his Broad Church views, 12; involved in most of the ecclesiastical controversies of the times, ib.; foreign tours, 13; peculiarities and deficiencies manifested in them, ib.; wealth of happy expression in his correspondence and diaries, 14; his successive promotions, 15; influence of his mother over him, ib.; happiness of his married life, 16; Dean of Westminster: his conception of his own mission in the Church, 16 sqq.; obscure and misty views about the Church, 17; views on Holy Orders, and Apostolic succession, 18; his hereditary distaste for Church authority, 19; under the influence of German and other destructive criticism, 20; his theory for the enlargement of the Church, ib.; Dr. Pusey's refusal to preach in Westminster Abbey, 21; Stanley and Ecce Homo, 22;

his mental characteristics, 23; contempt for dogma, ib.; what his desire for 'comprehension' meant, 24; beauty of his personal character, 26

Star in the East, The (edited by the Community of St. Mary the Virgin, Wantage), 253

Stephen, Rev. W., History of the Scottish Church, 516

Stolz, Rev. Alban, The 'Our Father' (translated from the German by J. C. H. H.–E.), 499

UNIVERSITY Extension in Oxford and the Non-Collegiate System, 409 sqq.; sketch of the work of the University Extension Committee, 410; students allowed to reside in lodgings ('unattached'), 411; 'Delegacy for Licensing Lodging-houses,' 412; statistics of results, ib.; new regulations for matriculation, 413; tutors and lecturers appointed by the Delegacy, 414; developments in 1877 and 1881, 415; name changed to 'Non-collegiate Students,' 416; question of migrations outwards, 417; financial position of athletic clubs, 418; Delegacy enlarged, 419; general statement of results, 420; honours obtained by non-collegiates, 421; why non-collegiates are not even more numerous, 422

VAUX, Rev. J. Edward, Church Folk-lore: a Record of some Post-Reformation Usages in the English Church, now mostly obsolete, 521

Vernon, the Hon. William Warren, Readings on the 'Inferno' of Dante, chiefly based on the Commentary of Benvenuto da Imola (with Introduction by Rev. Edward Moore), 510

Villainage in England (review of Professor Vinogradoff's book), 169 sqq.; the controversy as to the old institutions and laws of rural life in Europe, 170; village communes, 171; importance of English evidence on the subject, 172; Professor Vinogradoff's methods and results, 175; the English village before and after the Conquest, ib.; servile tenure, 176; internal constitution of the manor, 178; manorial courts: the jurors, 179; meaning of the ceremony at admission of a fresh copyholder, ib.; English agricultural system, 180; no traces of tribal communities, 181; knowledge of legal antiquities essential to the historian, 182

WARD, Mr. Wilfrid, Witnesses to the Unseen, and other Essays, 205

Watts, Mr. H. E., Spain ('The Story of the Nations'), 249

Whittuck, Rev. C. A., The Church of England and Recent Religious Thought, 234

Wirgman, Rev. A. T., The Church and the Civil Power; or, the Relations of Church and State historically considered, with special reference to the Restoration of Primitive Church Principles in the Constitutions and Canon Law of the American, Irish, Scottish, and Colonial Churches, 228

Wordsworth, Miss E., Henry William Burrows, Memorials, 239

Spottiswoode & Co. Printers, New-street Square, London.

da Imola
Rev. Ed-

review of 's book), ersy as to nd laws of o; village ortance of ne subject, ogradoff's 175; the
and after ile tenure, tion of the al courts:
ng of the
of a fresh lish agri-no traces 81; know-ties essen-52

Witnesses and other ain ('The

, 249
he Church
t Religious

The Church
r; or, the and State ed, with ne Restoraurch Prinutions and American,
Colonial

., Henry
Memorials,

XUM